Report Of Arboretum
CommitteeEnumerates Large Amount of Work Already AccomplishedPublicity Has Been a Vital
Factor In Development of the Idea

Having functioned nearly three months, your executive committee desires to submit a report of your affairs as they stand at this date.

Arboretum Plans

After a satisfactory conference with City Attorney Baker your committee addressed a letter to the Board of City Trustees, petitioning that Bailey Canyon be made available for use as an arboretum or botanical garden. The city attorney and the majority of the board of city trustees who had not been in Bailey Canyon were conducted on a tour of inspection by members of your committee. Afterwards your committee had as guests at the City Club in Los Angeles members of the board of trustees, the city attorney, the city engineer, representative landscape engineer, representative land-lords, foresters and citizens of Sierra Madre to discuss informally all phases of the organization of the arboretum.

As a result, the board of city trustees passed a resolution morally binding itself to set aside part of Bailey Canyon for use as an arboretum when, within one year, the Sierra Madre Botanical Society comes into legal existence and demonstrates its ability to finance and administer properly the affairs of an arboretum. Informally the city attorney made a gentleman's agreement with your secretary-treasurer that the lower portion of the canyon shall be leased to the society for a nominal consideration and with the obligation that a minimum of $1000 worth of improvements shall be made in the leased area annually. The upper part of the canyon is to be made available for use as an arboretum on a revocable permit with the condition that only useless growths shall be removed, and valuable botanical species shall be preserved. Your committee feels that the board of city trustees has gone as far as it is proper for it to go under present circumstances and your committee feels the board of city trustees has acted with commendable energy and promptness. The action of the board gives your committee the assurance necessary in order that it may formulate plans of organization and finance.

In working out the technical plans for the arboretum it has had the active assistance of Frank Shearer, superintendent of the Los Angeles park system; George F. Robinson, superintendent of Exposition Park; Dr. George P. Clements, manager of the horticultural department of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce and organizer of the Mandeville Canyon Botanical Garden; Charles G. Adams, landscape architect and engineer and specialist in California flora; Dr. Wm. Tyler Miller, one of the noted botanical experts of America; Dr. Marcus E. Jones, honorary curator of botany, Pomona College; Wm. Hertrick, manager Huntington Museum library and arboretum; Mrs. John H. Manning, notable garden planner and associate editor of Farm and Orchard; Dr. Paul Popenoe, notable expert in exotic plants; Wilson Popenoe, botanical explorer for the U. S. government; Dr. A. D. Shamel, botanical physiologist for the U. S. government; Mr. O. W. Howard, landscape planner; Mr. Frank W. Peirson of Pasadena high school and Mr. C. H. Cheney, city planning expert.

Mr. Shearer is chairman of your arboretum committee and has given much time in making surveys, field explorations and studies in the Arboretum Canyon. He is actively in charge of the mapping of the area and is directing the studies from which he will make the estimates upon which your committee will formulate its budgeted financial recommendations.

Mr. Charles G. Adams has generously volunteered to donate his professional services without charge for a period of five years, if necessary, to landscape the arboretum.

Representatives of the federal government who have visited the Arboretum have offered to co-operate at the proper time by securing, without cost, from the government, the loan of the services of botanical experts to be assigned for a period to this arboretum.

HAPGOOD AND
CARLSON BACK
HOME AGAIN

George E. Hapgood and O. W. Carlson, of the firm of Hapgood and Carlson, painters and decorators, returned Sunday from Atascadero where they have been working for the past month on the residence of B. H. Smith, a Chicago broker. Although they have more work ahead in Atascadero it was necessary for them to return, as they had contracted to do some work on the J. A. Page home which is located across from Wrigley's residence on South Orange Grove Avenue, Pasadena.

Messrs. Hapgood and Carlson are expecting to return to Atascadero in the spring to complete their contract with Mr. Smith.

Col. H. B. Hersey has purchased a piece of ground in Floral Valley adjoining the property recently acquired from Mrs. Fennel on Seep Point. The Colonel is cleaning up and planting this new purchase, which was made through the Humphries agency.

New Owners
Incorporate
Lumber YardBillheimer Spends Several Days Looking Over New Property

The Sierra Madre Lumber Company is the new name of the local establishment recently purchased by J. S. Billheimer & Son from Alley Brothers. Incorporation of the company as an independent unit is now in progress and is part of the plan of the new owners to make the business as completely a local institution as possible.

Mr. Billheimer senior has been in Sierra Madre during the week, forming the acquaintance of local business men. He says it has been the policy of himself and his son, wherever they have entered a new field, to make themselves and their business an integral part of the community. Although they now own lumber yards in four cities, they try to avoid as far as possible the detached attitude which sometimes makes non-resident ownership of a business undesirable.

W. E. Pratt, who has been with the local yard under ownership of the Alley Brothers and the Blinn company, will remain as manager and Mr. Billheimer expresses every confidence that he will prove satisfactory in view of what local people have already told him. Glenn I. Billheimer will be manager of the Pasadena yard, while his father will be general manager of the chain of yards.

Hawks Visits
Mining Camp
Of Old Days

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hawks and Miss Edith Hawks returned home this week from a two weeks' outing at Meadow Lake in Lassen county. This is in one of the districts rich in evidence and tradition of the days of the gold rush. Mr. Hawks spent much time there when he was in the assaying and mine investigation business, so that it was like going "back home." With an altitude of 7500 feet, plenty of mountain streams and big timber, total absence of reptiles and objectionable animal life, it is an ideal recreation spot.

In the vicinity are some of the old ghost cities of early days. There are still remnants of mining camps which sprang into great activity and had a considerable population. When reports came of the discovery of the Comstock Lode, or some other rich strike, the whole population joined the rush, leaving the towns absolutely deserted, to stand for many years without any inhabitants.

Instead of taking along a camera to record his impressions of the various beauty spots in the north country, Mr. Hawks took along a palette, brushes and paints and brought back many interesting sketches. The talent is newly developed and his friends are both astonished and delighted with the miniature "Whistlers."

Tax Rate Is Cut 12 Cents
By CouncilLibrary Board Asks 2-Cent
Reduction from Last Year's LevyTrustees Endeavoring to Hold
Tax Rate to Lowest Level

As forecast in last week's News, the Sierra Madre city tax rate will be $1.88 on each $100 valuation for the coming year, this being a reduction of 12 cents from the rate of the previous year. The apportionment will be as follows: General fund, $1; bond interest and principal, 71 cents; library, 9 cents; park, 8 cents.

The new rate was formally approved by resolution of the city council at their regular meeting last night. The amount necessary to be raised for all purposes is $69,424.72, as determined by ordinance adopted at the previous meeting of the council. The total assessed valuation of the city is $3,692,805, which is an increase of $208,740 since the 1925 assessment.

Under the new levy the rate for library purposes is two cents less than last year. The reduction of two cents was made at the suggestion of the board of library trustees. Chairman Donald C. Ashmore informed the council the library trustees had managed carefully so as to accumulate a surplus even after laying lineoleum and effecting other improvements in the library during the past year and the 9-cent rate would be satisfactory.

The council also cut three cents from the levy for park purposes, and the requirements for bond interest and redemption were also less, making another saving seven cents possible.

As soon as there was talk of a municipal swimming pool there was a clamor about the high tax rate. The council members are just as anxious as anybody else to get away from high tax rates. They also have the feeling that the recreation park project and some other needed improvements to city property will have a much better chance of approval by the voters with the lower tax rate.

TAKE STEAMER
HOME TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kersting are due to sail today on their return trip from Europe, according to a letter received from Mr. Kersting by W. P. Caley. They have been spending the summer in Europe, enjoying their travels very much. Mr. Kersting writes: "When you receive this letter we will be in Nice, Italy, after journeying through England, Belgium, Holland and Germany. We will arrive in Paris on August 17 and will be there until August 26 when we will take our steamer for home, arriving in New York September 5. We will stop off at our old home in Michigan for a short time before starting for home. Will be back in good old California about October 1."

GRAND CANYON
INCLUDED IN
AUTO JOURNEY

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Steinberger and Miss Elizabeth Steinberger returned home on Friday from a delightful exploring trip through Nevada, Utah and Northern Arizona. They spent a week on the trip, visiting Zion National Park, Bryce Canyon, the Kaibab national forest and the north rim of the Grand Canyon. They made the trip in the Lincoln touring car, with a good camping outfit, in the greatest comfort. Milt has seen Yosemite Valley and most of the other scenery of the west, but he found this section so interesting that he says if he were starting on another vacation trip next week he would head for the same region.

The Steinbergers found the old Mormon communities decidedly interesting. The cities and towns have been in existence so long that they have splendid tree growth which makes them very inviting, while the people are very hospitable.

CALIFORNIA PRIMARILY
GREAT SUMMER RESORT,
SAYS FAMOUS WRITER

Arthur Brisbane, noted editorial writer, recently wrote as follows concerning California: "Now is the best time for every reason to go to California. Many do not know that California is primarily a summer resort. The weather is perfect in summertime. At least 200,000 people will drive to California this year in their automobiles. And everywhere they will find good roads. The Pacific Coast and all the western country make automobile parties welcome. No difficulty about changing your license. All the way from Seattle down to San Diego you will find glorious roads, automobile clubs anxious to help, automobile camps, all sorts of conveniences. Or better still, take your tent along and camp on the edge of the Pacific and for once in your life see something really big. "Travel, see your country."

30 Men Sent To Fires On
Ridge RouteFire Most Disastrous Since
Great San Gabriel Fire
In Year 1924

Sierra Madre has furnished 30 men to the fire-fighting forces battling the huge mountain fire in the Tehachap Mountains. The fire has been the worst in Southern California since the San Gabriel fire of 1924. Up to Thursday more than 12,000 acres had been burned over. Thursday afternoon Chief of Police Keegan received a telephone message from forest fire officials saying the fire was under control at nearly all points and the situation was the most hopeful it had been since the fire started.

M. H. Davis, chief dispatcher of the Angeles Forest Reserve, has been in charge of the organization of forces at Pasadena. At his request Chief Keegan has collected and sent several squads of men, including the following: Jack Langworthy, Art Johnson, Alex Trejo, Otis Johnson, Don Hosford, Joe Swanson, Castillo Granados, Pablo Granados, Ole Alimillo, Fred Laione, Adolph Sanchez, Chuck Larimore, Justin Thomas, Tom Penders, Cal Tagles, Ray Sloan, John Henderson, Carl Peterson, C. Hill, Augustin Olivias, William Hill, P. M. Saavedra, Franck Cisneros, Lynwood Zeller, August Barrios, J. Candelaria, Marvin Webster and Jack McCullen.

"Fears that Sierra Madre will be unprotected from local fires by reason of the absence of these men are unfounded," declare Chief Keegan. "Sierra Madre is included in the cooperative organization which takes care of the entire mountain territory. We have received help in the past and can always call for help from the outside in case of emergency. That being true, we must be ready to furnish our share of help to other communities when the call comes."

"Last week we had two fires and received outside help on both of them," continued the chief. "We had men from Monrovia and Pasadena. And after the second fire when we needed light for the men to get around on the mountain side I called on Dispatcher Davis for some Coleman gasoline lanterns and he sent them over right away. With the kind of help we have available through the association and the federal and county forces, we need not be alarmed over the absence of some of our good fighters."

INCINERATORS
DESIGNED FOR VARIOUS USES

Dave and Jack Buchan are doing their part to relieve the menace of outdoor fires by building a number of brick incinerators. They have developed an incinerator of ample size for the ordinary household which can be built at a very reasonable cost. Using clay brick, laid in lime mortar, they believe they have the best possible material for the purpose. A chimney gives excellent draft, and there is an opening at the bottom for draft and for cleaning out the ashes. With a metal top, a fine outdoor stove is provided, which is excellent for barbecue purposes. The Buchan brothers will build incinerators of any size desired, but they are making a specialty of this one as suitable for the average household.

Schools Are Subject For
Frank TalksSmall Number of Citizens
Respond to Request to Attend MeetingEstimates on New School
Building and Ground
Total $200,000

Sierra Madre's school system was thoroughly discussed at Monday night's meeting of the chamber of commerce directors. And although President Humphries and Secretary Brooks had made strenuous efforts to round up an attendance of people thought to be interested in the schools, and two school trustees and the principal were present to answer questions, only three or four citizens in addition were present.

Trustees J. O. Smith and Mrs. H. E. Allen were present with Principal Elizabeth Steinberger to represent the schools. The discussion revealed the fact that a few families are reported to have left town primarily because of unsatisfactory school conditions. All the criticisms simmer down to two things: The present elementary school building is an out-of-date frame structure which ought to be replaced with a modern fire-proof building on enlarged grounds, and the absence of junior high school facilities here makes it necessary to send seventh and eighth grade pupils out of town for their instruction.

Frank discussion of the facts resulted in a clearing up of much misunderstanding and better appreciation of the wonderful school advantages which are actually available for local pupils. The local school district conducts only the kindergarten and elementary grades through the sixth. In the past, seventh and eighth grade work have also been given. But this was under jurisdiction of the county system which imposes certain limitations on what can be taught.

Sierra Madre school district is a part of the Pasadena high school district which is not under county jurisdiction. In Pasadena the junior high school system has been put into operation, a system to which practically all progressive communities are working. The junior high includes the seventh, eighth and ninth grades and affords many advantages over anything that could be offered here in the corresponding grades under the old plan. To establish an independent junior high school here would be prohibitive in cost.

To reach the junior high school the high school district is establishing direct bus service. This will mean that many pupils will be picked up at points nearer their homes than the distance they have had to travel to get to the local school building.

The junior high school system is so planned as to tie in with the senior high school, which includes the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades. So long as the seventh and eighth grades were taught here as a part of the elementary system the pupils entered the advanced grades with very deficient preparation as compared with pupils who had the advantage of the junior high system. In making the present arrangement trustees and principal alike were agreed that the pupils would get the best possible instruction.

As to the building problem, the desirability of a new plant is admitted by all. The trustees feel it is also necessary to obtain more land. Estimates of the probable cost of land and buildings were as high as $200,000. This was felt to be more than the voters would be likely to authorize.

Union of the local school district with that of Pasadena was discussed as a possibility. The advantage of complete unification of the curriculum was generally admitted. There seems to be also the possibility of financing a new building without a local bond issue. The policy of the Pasadena district now provides for all necessary building expansion from current tax proceeds and it was the opinion of some of those present that Sierra Madre's needs might be taken care of in this manner.

As the outcome of the discussion, the president of the chamber of commerce was authorized to appoint an investigating committee to study all the problems involved and to aid the school trustees in arriving at the right solution.

Mrs. E. Sturmthal and Mrs. R. W. Stewart were present to bring up the project of planting sweet peas for use on a Sierra Madre float in the tournament of roses. Free distribution of seeds

IS PERILOUS

Stepping on a dynamite cap as she walked along Central Avenue Monday night resulted in a severe shock and minor injuries to Miss Theresa Ranahan and her companion, Miss Angela Schneeberger. The cap exploded with a sound which was heard for blocks and a flash which illuminated the neighborhood. The wooden heel of Miss Ranahan's shoe was torn away and fragments of metal penetrated the legs and arms of both girls. Both girls collapsed and were taken to Dr. E. L. Jackson's office for first aid where the metal particles were removed before the girls were taken home.

Miss Ranahan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ranahan of 127 Auburn Avenue, and was accompanied by her two younger sisters, who escaped injury. Miss Schneeberger is the daughter of E. E. Schneeberger of 189 North Hermosa. The source of the dynamite cap is unknown.

World Tongue
Was Ambition
Of L. H. DyerWas Veteran of Two Wars—
Was In U. S. Navy for Many Years

Luther H. Dyer, retired navy veteran and author, passed away on Tuesday at the naval base hospital in San Diego. He had been a resident of Sierra Madre for some time, living at 246 North Lima, but had been taken to the naval hospital for treatment. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Ellen Dyer.

Mr. Dyer was 59 years of age and served 32 years in the navy. He was a veteran both of the Spanish-American and the World War. He held a yeoman's rating.

Promotion of an international language was Mr. Dyer's great ambition. He was a member of the International Language Society of America. Letters from A. J. Angman of New York, secretary of the organization, testify to the high esteem in which Mr. Dyer was held by his associates in the organization. Mr. Angman wrote to Mrs. Dyer recently: "During all the time that we have been in touch with each other, joined in the same interest for the promotion of the international language idea, he has always shown great magnanimity and understanding for the many conflicting views, and has always been ready to help everybody to build up such a mentality. We all owe him very much for his splendid cooperation and feel the loss of his friendly help very much."

Rosary services were held at the Moreland Mortuary Thursday night and funeral services will be conducted at St. Rita's Church at 8 o'clock this morning.

Social Night
Next Tuesday
In the Temple

Members of the Masonic lodge, and their friends are cordially invited to a social night in the Masonic Temple next Tuesday. It will be a stag affair, with program beginning about 8 o'clock, to be followed by refreshments.

Formation of a local DeMolay chapter is under consideration and it is probable that this will be discussed on Tuesday night. While the Order of DeMolay is in no sense a part of Masonry, a DeMolay chapter must be sponsored by some branch of the Masonic Order. The DeMolay order is for the sons of Masons and their friends from 16 to 20 years of age. Several Sierra Madre boys belong to the chapters in Pasadena and Monrovia and others have indicated their intention of making application.

J. N. Hawks, master of the Masonic lodge, has made the invitation a cordial one to all who are interested and hopes for a good attendance.

It was proposed but given up as unlikely to produce a uniform or dependable supply. It was decided the best plan would be to procure a plot of ground and plant the seeds all on one lot, where they would receive regular and competent care. Secretary Brooks offered the use of a lot 100x150 feet near his home on Lima Street. The matter will be taken up by a committee to be appointed by the president.

Harmonica

News Draws Huge Crowd
to City ParkNext Program to Be Given
September 2 by Masonic Lodge

Roy Edwards, husky and hearty and with the soul of an enthusiastic musician buoying up his stalwart frame, proved himself a real champion last Friday night when he defeated the "field" arrayed against him in the News harmonica contest, the opening number of a series of programs to be given at the city park under the auspices of the chamber of commerce.

Hundreds of people, men, women and children, were attracted to the park by promise of the treat in store, and each stayed through until the contest had been decided.

Six disciples of Orpheus appeared to contest for the three prizes "hung up" by the News, Roy Edwards, Jack Collins, Linden Murray, Billy Wark, Carlos Hauffon and William Peterson. Two others who had signed refused to brave the ordeal.

Playing numbers of their own selection, the contestants were introduced to the audience by George B. Morridge of the News, who had charge of the contest. The judges, Mr. Woodson F. Jones, Mr. Howard Lieben and Mrs. Henry Olsen, after due deliberation requested Roy Edwards, Jack Collins and Linden Murray to play once again and the prizes were then awarded in that order.

Roy displayed a great deal of ability in playing his harmonica, and put into his work a dash and verve, so to speak, that was absent in the work of the others. Jack was supremely artistic and Linden delighted the audience with two "trick" numbers that made decided hits. The little fellows who had entered the contest and who appeared, were adjudged so proficient by the News editors that the number of prizes was increased to six, and every entrant participated in the "melon cutting."

Joe R. Eastwood of the News and chairman of the chamber of commerce entertainment committee, announced the forthcoming numbers on the park series, the next program to be offered by the Masonic Lodge of this city, next Friday evening, September 2nd. The lodge entertainment committee has arranged a fine program, consisting of a play, quartet and solo vocal numbers, readings and instrumental numbers, and will be offer a most enjoyable evening's entertainment.

The committee voiced its sincere appreciation of the co-operation on the part of the audience in making last Friday evening's program such a tremendous success. They urge that the townspeople bend every effort to attending the programs, for it is a well known fact that it is through such co-operation, attendance and appreciation that the artists are repaid for their unselfish efforts on behalf of the community.

It is hoped that arrangements can be made shortly to provide a small platform from which the entertainments may be given, together with a number of additional benches and seats to accommodate the crowds. The lawn in front of the park house affords a natural amphitheatre, and with the addition of seats will form a perfect setting for the concerts to be given during the next few weeks.

War Veteran Is Laid at Rest

Funeral services for Charles E. Holman, 28-year old war veteran who passed away August 17, were held on Saturday at the Moreland Mortuary. Interment took place in Santa Monica, the American Legion being in charge.

To make its property on East Montecito Avenue more attractive, the Southern Counties Gas Company has been landscaping the ground in front of the big gas tanks. A lawn and shrubbery have been planted. District Agent W. E. Keefe reports that the company's plan for an office building in Sierra Madre has been put aside for some time.

Plunge Big Factor In Civic Life

(Glendora Press)

A considerable amount of very interesting and enlightening information is being assembled in regard to situations in various cities throughout the southwest, and especially in California, in regard to public parks, playgrounds and swimming pools and their estimated value to the communities in which they are located.

A questionnaire asking for definite information was sent out recently by the Glendora chamber of commerce, in order that reliable and accurate statements on the subject might be secured, and a number of intensely illuminating replies have been received and the mails are daily bringing in additional replies.

Attached to many of the replies that are received here have been letters congratulating Glendora on its progressiveness in launching a campaign for this purpose, and the opinion has been unanimously expressed that few, if any, movements of a civic character can rebound to greater benefit to a community than one for the establishment of a public park, playgrounds and swimming pool such as is proposed in Glendora.

The issue is considered one of the paramount programs of the day in the city of Los Angeles, as is well known, and only a day or two ago the city opened a new swimming pool in the city, in its program for development along this line, which cost, it is stated, in the neighborhood of $100,000. This is simply one little community pool and scores of others are planned and will be established before the Los Angeles authorities will feel that they are even keeping pace with the times.

Probably one of the most interesting examples of what can be expected in connection with the establishment of such a project is furnished by the city of Anaheim, one of the pioneers in Southern California in this line.

Anaheim established a park, playgrounds and swimming pool at a cost of $235,000, of which sum $57,000 went into the swimming pool alone. It is most extensively patronized and the people of Anaheim are very enthusiastic because of it. The revenue from the pool for the first year was estimated at $5,000 and it is stated that the project is self-supporting at the present time. The park is one of the finest in Southern California and the entire project is of such outstanding merit and interest that it has attracted a great amount of publicity, not only in the southwest, but in national magazines, and has proved a very great benefit to the standpoint of publicity alone. Thousands of visitors from all sections are entertained during the year, and Anaheim gets a lot of boosting on account of it.

Night Baseball at Anaheim

Night baseball is one of the features at Anaheim and according to the official records over 80,000 persons witnessed games there last season. The official report says, "It is impossible to estimate the number of people who receive recreational benefit and pleasure from visiting the park, or the number of children who waded in the pool free, but these figures would run well into thousands. From recorded attendance, exclusive of the baseball previously mentioned, we know the figure exceeds 150,000."

The park is considered Anaheim's greatest municipal asset.

From Redlands comes the statement that "the best investment this city has every made was in its park and pool." The project is located over a mile from the center of the city and is very extensively used, according to the information furnished. The pool cost approximately $35,000, and the revenue received from it meets all the maintenance costs of the project.

Montebello Asset

Montebello has just completed a park and playgrounds with swimming pool at a total cost of $185,000, over which the people of that city are highly pleased. It is about a mile from the city hall and is patronized very extensively. While it is not possible as yet to ascertain what the revenue will be, it is expected that the pool will meet the maintenance costs easily. The opinion is expressed that "every city in Southern California should have a park and pool. It is a great asset, helps to develop the right kind of community spirit and advertises the city extensively and very advantageously."

Corona has a park and pool located a mile and a half from the city hall which is extremely popular and attracts large crowds at all times. It cost the city $35,000 for its pool and is looked upon as "a splendid investment." Visitors from all over patronize the park and pool and it is felt that it is a big advertisement for Corona.

Colton takes advantage of natural warm-springs to provide a warm water swimming pool in its park, and is visited by thousands of persons each season. It is five or six blocks from the center of the city and the income from the pool more than pays all the costs of maintenance for the park and pool combined, including a pool staff composed of a manager, matron, life-guard and assistant. The people of the city enthusiastically praise it and consider it one of their greatest attractions.

Alhambra was particularly fortunate in that it received a seventeen acre tract donation and its only costs were the landscaping, equipment and the building of the swimming pool. It is located twelve blocks from the city hall and is extensively used and keenly appreciated by the people of Alhambra. The cost of the pool and equipment was $61,992.

Three Riverside Pools

Riverside boasts five parks and three swimming pools and is more than glad that they exist and would like to have more. The pools are located one mile, one mile and a quarter and three miles from the city hall and are all patronized and enjoyed extensively, not only by Riverside people but by thousands of visitors. The people of the city consider these attractions second only to the Mission Inn as municipal assets.

From Sierra Madre comes the information that there is a public park which cost approximately $35,000 and is extensively used, but the people recognize the urgent need for a modern swimming pool and they are now making plans to add one to the park attractions. The suggestion has met with universal approval, it is stated, and there is little doubt that it will be carried through.

Eagle Rock Crowded

On the other hand Eagle Rock has no park but maintains a fine swimming pool, which is located eight blocks from the city hall, and cost $50,000. The people of the city, the report says, are "mighty glad they have it" and it is crowded at all times. The revenue takes care of the upkeep.

Santa Ana has a splendid park, but lacks a swimming pool at the present time. The report says, "Our people greatly value the park and we are planning to add more acreage in the very near future, and, of course, we will have to have a swimming pool. We recognize the necessity from a community value standpoint."

The situation at such points as Covina, Monrovia and Pomona in this immediate neighborhood, are so well known that no reference to the parks, playgrounds and pools in these cities is necessary.

Steel Desks To Be Made By New Firm

Machinery of the type necessary for the manufacture of steel furniture and a heavy electric power load for operation are being installed this week in the new brick and concrete factory in the heart of the San Gabriel River area, south of Azusa.

This factory, which is one of two already built on the 160 acres of the Keeney Grove, is to manufacture a specially designed type of metal office desk and various types of office furniture. The work has been going on quietly for some months under the direction of Carl S. Newcomer of Pasadena, Harry A. Wardy and Donald C. Barbee, the latter a principal owner of one of the largest metal furniture factories in the east. Mr. Newcomer, president, is one of the large real estate operators of Pasadena, and he said last week that several men possessing patents and knowledge of the business were associated with them. The firm is known as the Steel Furniture Manufacturing company.

The commercial center of Keeney Grove lies along Irwindale Boulevard and Bonita Avenue, the latter street being a part of the route of the new Arrow highway, which is virtually all signed up at the present time, with good indications that work on this big east and west artery will begin before the end of the year. Several other factory buildings will be started in this district before the end of the year. The plans call for a complete modern industrial city. President Newcomer states that his company was induced to come to the San Gabriel Valley because of the ideal climate, free from fogs and weather unfavorable to the handling of steel in large quantities, and because of the great San Gabriel River cone offers the only large tract in the county of an economical nature, where there is room for expansion and the building of ideal conditions for factory employees. The great San Gabriel flood control dam to be built in the canyon 11 miles north of Azusa was also a determining factor.

California apples and pears of the 1927 crop are in good demand in London markets.

Collectors Tell Influence of Modern Art

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Fleming, of Long Beach, guests for a month at "Estudio de la Hermosa Vista," the home of Miss Ella Shepard Bush, miniature painter, offer new views on art collecting. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming are well known collectors of Japanese prints, lacquers and porcelains and are students of Oriental arts and in the spiritual history of the people whose aspirations are expressed through their art.

Mr. Fleming has lectured frequently before the two universities in Los Angeles, during exhibitions at the Los Angeles Museum of Science and Art at Exposition Park and before clubs. Here he brought a number of Japanese prints, among them five Sharakus. Prints by this great artist are among the prizes in the print world.

"To me the object of the collection is to center interest in life," Mr. Fleming says, "When one's life is scattered he gets nowhere; but in a hobby he is given a certain direction, as a ship heading for port. There is a saying by Walt Whitman that so much becomes knowable when one thing is thoroughly known. Vast similitude interlocks all things."

"There is another theory I have of art itself. There is no human interest which trains and exercises so many faculties as art so if a collector, or a man with a hobby, finds his adventure in some field of art, he finds exercise for every faculty. Art trains the imagination, and the world depends upon imagination for all its originality and invention, so I consider art the invaluable study of our schools and colleges."

"I became interested in the Orient about twenty-two years ago. It is one of the most interesting fields or art, as art production in the Orient has had the longest history of any art in the world. Japan, for example, has had 1200 years of uninterrupted evolution in art, while Greece has had but 1000 years. This long period of art development has resulted in an appreciation among the people as a nation which is incomparable."

"It was this intelligence, through art, that enabled them almost immediately to take high rank among the nations of the world. The whole nation was a nation of artists, craftsmen. Everything they made, their pots, pans, dishes, tools of utility and use, were artfully made. Even their blacksmiths and carpenters were artisans of highest order. In some instances the craftsmen would spend from one year to a lifetime making a single article of lacquer. Making useful things perfectly resulted in an economy which gave the people lives of leisure, because these articles became household treasures and were highly revered and preserved. Our machine made articles do not command such respect and quickly go to the scrap pile."

"To illustrate the culture of the masses of Japan, one recalls the old Japanese color prints. These were made as posters for the common people and despised by the upper classes. Nevertheless, today there are probably more collectors of Japanese color prints throughout the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany, than collectors in any other one branch of the work of art."

"These despised color prints today are treasured as masterpieces, as examples of composition, of harmony, of color, of the rhythmic music of line, and stand alone among the art treasures of the world. In most recent sales of such prints in New York City, single pictures brought from $500 to $2500 each, that, when made, probably did not cost more than a penny."

Mr. Fleming concluded, "We know of exercise and fresh air for development of the body, I feel the secret of happiness and enjoyment of life is exercising the mind, and feel one of the most important mediums is through art."

Robinson Suffers From Severe Burns

J. F. Robinson is suffering with severely burned hands as a result of a small fire in his home on North Auburn Avenue, just about the time of the fire up on the mountain side. He had returned home late and started to cook himself some supper. The gas supply being low, he went outside to drop a quarter in the slot meter. When he returned to his kitchen the gas had flashed up and set fire to some window hangings near the stove. Mr. Robinson grasped the burning fabric with his unprotected hands. In smothering the flames he suffered burns which proved extremely painful.

Famous Play To Open At San Gabriel

When asked for some facts regarding his leading woman, Charlotte Treadway, Manager Sprowl became most enthusiastic. He stated that when it was decided to put a stock company into the beautiful new Mission Playhouse at San Gabriel, he immediately made up his mind that Charlotte Treadway would be the leading woman, if it were possible, to secure her. He realized what a following her three years at the Morisco Theatre in Los Angeles had built up but being a mere man he did not realize how much Miss Treadway's knowledge of clothes and how to wear them added to her charm and her wonderful acting ability. However, a perusal of some of Miss Treadway's press notices opened Mr. Sprowl's eyes to the fact that Miss Treadway is the best dressed woman on the stage today. As one dramatic critic in San Francisco says, "Charlotte Treadway is deliciously pretty, with ever so many pretty frocks in each of which she looks sweeter than the last." Among some of the comments by Los Angeles critics, "Charlotte Treadway has exceptional beauty, personal charm and marvellous frocks."

In "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" which will open at the new Mission Playhouse, San Gabriel, Saturday night, September 10th, Miss Treadway is planning to wear some very beautiful gowns, and her portrayal of "Lorelei Lee" will be well worth seeing.

California has increased her automobiles forty times in sixteen years—from 40,000 to 1,600,000 motor vehicles.

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

A party of surveyors headed by A. B. Collins of the Los Angeles county flood control office spent Tuesday in the canyon surveying certain portions of the stream channel. Mr. Collins stated that the purpose of this work was to straighten out disputed points in the original survey. Mr. Collins plans to remain on the canyon flood control work permanently until its completion.

In honor of the 68th birthday of her mother, Mrs. Charles Henderson entertained with a dinner and house party at her cottage, "Splash Inn," on Thursday. The following guests were present: Mrs. Harry Phillips, Harry Phillips, Jr., George Phillips, Mrs. Fred Sheeler, Miss Frances Sheeler, Mrs. Ed. Hughes, Robert, Blanche and Margaret Costa, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. L. S. Anderson, Tom and Jerry Anderson, Mrs. B. Boyd Peterson, all of San Pedro and Mrs. Gomer of Houston, Texas. The guests remained until Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon B. Wolfe and family of Vista Circle Drive, long-time Canyon residents, have removed to Hollywood where they will remain during the school year. Mr. Wolfe was formerly president of the Canyon Improvement Association.

On Friday evening Mrs. Ella A. Cadmus and Miss Laura E. Cadmus attended the Hollywood Bowl concert in company with Mrs. Ellen Beach Yaw Cannon and her husband, Franklin Cannon of New York City. After the concert Mrs. Cannon spent the night at Cadmus Villa. On Saturday Mrs. Cannon was motored to her Covina home, "Lark Ellen Ranch," by Miss Cadmus. Franklin Cannon, who is a distinguished pianist, has established a studio in Hollywood where he will conduct his master classes for three months of each year, spending the balance of his time with his New York and Nice, France, classes.

On Wednesday Miss Laura E. Cadmus and her accompanist, Mr. Alfred E. Hunt of Monrovia, motored to Palos Verdes where they enjoyed luncheon at La Venta Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Railsback, canyon residents for a number of years, have sold their home on Woodland Drive to H. M. Harris of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Francis, Miss Edna May Knapp, Raymond Francis and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McFarland of Long Beach are enjoying a short vacation at the Craig Cabin on Brookside Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dennis are occupying their cottage at 673 Brookside Lane for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Dollis S. Price of Long Beach is recovering at her cottage, "Dolly's Folly," from a badly sprained ankle sustained while picking peaches at her ranch in Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Mogul who have been residing in the Hall cottage on Alta Vista Drive for several months, are removing to Hollywood where Mr. Mogul plans to enter business.

The Misses Carolyn and Kathryn Folmer of the Bible Institute in Los Angeles, spent a week in the Bacon cottage on Brookside Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Virgin and Mrs. Jennie Virgin, Mr. Virgin's mother, of Pasadena, were visitors at Cadmus Villa on Monday. Mr. Virgin, who is business manager for the well known evangelist John E. Brown, plans to leave soon for the east where Mr. Brown has extensive speaking engagements.

Friday evening, September 16th, will be Canyon Night at the City Park. On this evening a program arranged by the Canyon Improvement Association will be given. Those in charge promise an interesting entertainment, details of which will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert J. F. Willett of Holly Trail Path, entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dutoir of Los Angeles on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Huffine and family of Long Beach are enjoying a two week's vacation in Forest Cottage on Woodland Drive. Mr. Huffine is soloist at the First M. E. Church of the beach city.

Miss Betty Chase and Master Ira Fishman, who have been occupying the Ledy apartments on Woodland Drive, have returned to their home in Long Beach.

Dave Snead of Los Angeles was a canyon visitor on Sunday. Mr. Snead was formerly associated with Mr. Hartman at Orchard Camp and will be remembered as a familiar figure conducting the pack train to and from that place.

A Ford touring car, owned by M. F. Brockway of this city was stolen from its parking place on Colorado Avenue, Pasadena, Saturday night. It was recovered Monday at San Marino, three new tires being removed before the car was abandoned by the thieves. The loss was covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Eastwood and Lela Joy were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Record of Fullerton, Saturday. Mr. Record, who was formerly city manager of Fullerton, and Mr. Eastwood were former students at South Dakota University together, and both are from Watertown, S. D.

The Rev. M. D. Kneeland and his mother Mrs. E. L. Toye, motored to Santa Barbara last Wednesday, remaining until Saturday. Enroute they visited friends in Santa Paula.

FEDERATION TO DEDICATE NEW HOME

Mrs. Fletcher H. White, president of the Woman's Club, has announced that all members of the club and their friends have been cordially invited to attend the formal opening of the Federation headquarters at 2103 South Hobart Boulevard, Los Angeles, which will be held on Wednesday, August 31, from three until six o'clock. The structure for which the Federation members have been working and planning about two years is to stand as a memorial to Eleanor Jay Toll, past president of the Federation.

During the afternoon, tea will be served, and there will be a splendid musical entertainment as may be judged from the following talent appearing on the program: Sylvain Noack, violinist, who is concert master of the Hollywood Bowl orchestra, and Miss Tofka Tolces, concert pianist, of New York City. Many prominent club women of the district, state and national federations are to be in the receiving line. A nominal admission charge will be made.

Kay Shop Is Growing Rapidly

With an enlarged show room and display facilities and a greatly augmented stock, the Kay Shop is now prepared for a greatly increased business this fall. Extensive lines of children's wearables have been added to the ladies' apparel with which the shop started in business. Infants' wear has also been included. Mrs. Kaplan has been in the shop a little while this week after a fortnight's absence, and will return regularly after next Monday. She reports a highly satisfactory reception has been accorded the new children's department in the short time since it has been installed, many mothers finding it highly advantageous to shop there.

SIERRA MADRE NEWS SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA

Published by the
SIERRA MADRE PRESS, INC.
Geo. B. Morgridge—Joe R. Eastwood
Sole Owners

Telephone Black 42
Press Building Opposite P. E. Station

Entered as Second Class Matter at the post office at Sierra Madre, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879

KEEPING AHEAD

"AHEAD of the town" has been a sort of slogan around the News office for a good many years. It was not said in any boastful way but had reference to the matter of printing equipment. At every stage for more than fifteen years the News shop has had mechanical equipment for the production of vastly more printing than the town could consume.

This policy was followed partly with a view to printing for out of town customers, and partly to be prepared for the future development. Additions have been made repeatedly to the News equipment during that period. Sometimes it would have been possible to purchase second-hand equipment at considerable saving, with which the shop force could "get by." Instead, the policy has always been to buy the newest and best equipment on the market for the particular purpose it was to meet.

During the present week the publishers of the News have contracted for a new Kelly press, a high speed automatic machine with great production capacity for the highest grade of work. This is a unit which few country printers have the courage to buy, although it is widely used in the largest printing plants of the country. It took a great deal of faith in Sierra Madre as a place to sell printing and as a place to do printing to justify the purchase of this press.

In addition a large power paper cutter will be added to the shop equipment. This will replace a smaller hand-operated machine and will be an important factor in the production of high class printing in quantity.

The friendly jest usually brought forth by the news of the purchase of a lot of expensive printing machinery is: "Well, you fellows must be making a lot of money to be able to do that sort of thing." But that is not the point. Whether the shop has ever made any money or not, the new equipment must pay its own way. Unless that is possible the machinery cannot be justified.

The News has a just claim on the largest possible patronage within the capacity of the community. To publish the kind of paper which Sierra Madre deserves requires the maintaining of a certain working force. The newspaper does not occupy the force nor the shop equipment for the entire week. To maintain this force the shop must keep busy on commercial printing. So in patronizing the printing department Sierra Madre people are making possible the building of a better newspaper at the same time.

The equipment of the News shop is very complete. When the News takes your order you can be sure all the work will be done right here in Sierra Madre by Sierra Madre workmen. You are helping to build Sierra Madre when you patronize the News print shop.

Within a few days the new automatic press will be in operation in the front window if the News office. If you want to see the wheels go 'round, just bring in a printing order. And if you are not needing any printing right now, come and see it any way. We THANK you.

SCHOOLS

SIERRA MADRE has a school system to be proud of. There are improvements to be made in physical equipment and in the local curriculum. But the scope and quality of instruction afforded Sierra Madre students, from the kindergarten through junior college, put our educational facilities far ahead of the average community. The defects in our school facilities can be remedied. But it will take time and patience.

There has been a tendency to blame the school trustees, present and past, for allowing the present situation to develop. Looking back, it is difficult to see at just what point a different course should have been taken under circumstances then existing, to bring about what is now recognized as desirable. The future will be easier to chart, because school systems are undergoing radical changes everywhere, mostly following standards toward which the Pasadena school system has been working for some time.

Our own system is partly independent and partly joined with that of Pasadena. It must be coordinated from bottom to top with that of Pasadena to get maximum results. Our school trustees are alive to the problems and may be trusted to recommend the right policy when the time comes for the next step ahead. In the mean time don't let the minor defects obscure the great and manifold advantages offered. When talking about our schools remember there are few communities offering finer school privileges anywhere. Encourage the trustees who are trying to build a better school system by commending what we already have that is so fine.

PUSH THE POOL

UNLESS Sierra Madre wants to lag behind most of the other towns of Southern California it will get its recreation park program under way without delay. Voters will do well to read the article on Page two of this issue, reprinted from the Glendora Press. It tells the result of investigations made of the park facilities and park patronage of various communities. In nearly every instance the parks, especially the recreational parks, are considered among the greatest civic assets. Glendora has a park bond proposition now before the voters.

In most cities it has been necessary to purchase land to get a recreational park even started. The City of Sierra Madre owns the necessary land. The big item of expense is already taken care of. The park development can be undertaken by units, the first of which should be a swimming pool. While this would necessitate a bond issue, this is nothing to fear. For other cities have found their pools profitable investment. Proceeds of the operation of the pool should go a long way toward paying its cost. It is not impossible that the pool might even pay the expenses of further development of the recreation park.

"C'mon in, the water's fine."

THE FACTOR THAT DESTROYS

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world.

I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the nations.

I am more deadly than bullets and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest siege guns.

I steal, in the United States alone, more than five billion dollars each year.

I spare no one, and I find my victims among rich and poor alike, the young and the old, the strong and the weak; widows and orphans know me.

I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from turning of the grindstone to the moving of every railroad train.

I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage earners a year.

I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not.

I am relentless.

I am everywhere—in the home on the streets, in the factory, at railroad crossings and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation and death, yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush, or maim; I give nothing and take all.

I am your worst enemy.

I am carelessness.

Exchange.

Banana Tree Short-Lived
The banana of commerce, once considered a luxury, but now a staple food, is the fruit of a certain species of Musa, a tree which grows abundantly in the lowlands of the tropics where rainfall is ample. The trees grow rapidly, attaining a height ranging from 18 to 30 feet in about 12 months. Only one bunch or "stem" of bananas is produced by a tree, after which it is cut down.

What's Doing At Theaters In Pasadena

The Raymond

Clara Bow, the bouncing, dashing "maiecap of the screen" has gone and done it again. She's back in a play that's even better than "Rough House Rosie." "Hula" opens at the Raymond today. The story itself is perfect for the lovable redhead, so much so that one can believe Armine von Temp'ski had Clara in mind when she wrote the popular novel. "The Dancing Demons" is the new Fanchon and Marco Idea and features Taylor and Lake, two artists who have just come to the coast from a sensational run in the east.

The Strand

"Smile, Brother, Smile," now playing at the Strand Theatre, will lead you to as enjoyable an evening as you have spent in many moons. It is a delightful light comedy, splendidly played by Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill and a dandy supporting cast, without a dull moment from the time Jack is discovered as a humble shipping clerk and Miss Markaill as the port telephone girl. Starting Sunday, Monte Blue in "The Brute" will be the Strand attraction. Thrilling scenes of the Oklahoma oil rush are vividly portrayed. Blue is cast as a slow-in-speech quick-in-action cowboy of the days when the West was really wild and wooly. The reduction in price at the Strand has been the means of packing the house to capacity every night since the policy changed.

The Colorado

The second picture to be shown at the Colorado Theatre in conjunction with "West Coast Theatres Greater Movie Season" and the new Colorado super feature policy is the Warner Bros. comedy road show, "The Missing Link," starring Syd Chaplin, the laugh getter of "Charlie's Aunt." "The Missing Link" will start tomorrow and will play for seven days only. In conjunction will be shown the usual Colorado newsreel and topics of the day, as well as a special scenic, "Sky Walkers." The comedy will be Mable Normand in "One Hour Married."

Exempted From Warfare

The selective service law in vogue during the World war provided exemption to "a member of a well-recognized religious sect or organization, organized and existing on May 18, 1917, whose then existing creed or principles forbid its members to participate in war in any form, and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein."

Flag Never Dipped

Raymond Poincare, war President of France, said a few years ago: "The Star-Spangled Banner is the only flag in the world which does not dip before the head of a state, king or President." That's a little detail, but it's significant. The flag of the United States is dipped in courtesy to another nation, but never to an individual.—Gas Logie

Interesting Day at Park—

A happy and interesting day was spent at Exposition Park in Los Angeles on Tuesday by Dr. May Culbertson Laidlaw of 83 N. Sunnyside and her cousin, Mrs. Wm. Allison who is visiting her from Seattle; Miss Leah P. Fletcher of 634 West Highland and her little guest, Clara Louise Zeller of 93 West Mira Monte, and Mrs. Annie P. McBride of Seattle, who was accompanied by Mrs. Woodford and Mrs. Kennedy of Los Angeles. A delicious picnic lunch was enjoyed by the party.

Open Air Gospel Meetings—

There will be an open air gospel meeting Sunday at 3 o'clock in the cool, comfortable arbor in the rear of the home of J. D. Tucker at 111 Suffolk Avenue. The meeting is being conducted by John Rankin, Scotch evangelist who has been holding meetings in Monrovia for the past three weeks with the exception of last Sunday, when about a hundred people gathered on the grounds of the Tucker residence. These grounds are always a revelation to newcomers, for the growth of the vines and the landscaping are a landmark in Sierra Madre which has taken years to develop. A cordial invitation is extended to all Sierra Madre people to be present at this gathering, with their friends.

Miss Clare Andre and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andre, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. Krier and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schiltz about a month, have returned to their homes in Petersburg, Nebraska. The return trip will include Yellowstone National Park, Yosemite and San Francisco.

Miss Mildred Zeller of 93 West Mira Monte was the guest last week end of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cahoon of Pomona and Charles Spott of Los Angeles at their cabin near Glen Ranch in Lytle Creek Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schiltz and family spent Sunday at Long Beach.

Mrs. Herbert Clark and son, Carl Young, of 261 North Adams, arrived home Saturday from a trip to Chicago where they and Jack Young have been visiting Mrs. Michael Winters and Mrs. Wm. Keup. Their return trip included three days spent in San Francisco, which they enjoyed very much. Jack is remaining in Chicago where he will attend school.

Mrs. Henry M. Olsen is spending the week with friends in Hermosa Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pratt and son drove to Lake Arrowhead on Saturday. Mr. Pratt returned Monday morning to his duties as manager of the Sierra Madre Lumber Company, while his family remained for a longer outing.

Guest of Honor Surprised—

Carl Bever of the Mira Monte Hotel, unexpectedly discovered himself the guest of honor Wednesday night at a party given at the Mira Monte Hotel, when Mrs. Bever and about thirty-five Pasadena and Sierra Madre friends surprised him on his birthday. The jolly crowd played games during the evening, followed by delectable refreshments which Mrs. Bever and several of the guests had prepared without arousing Mr. Bever's suspicions. The Sierra Madre guests were Mr. Bever's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bever, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Howard, and Miss Evelyn Wade. Mr. Bever was the recipient of several very nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Greese and Mrs. Greese's brother, H. E. Vorhis, returned to Sierra Madre last Wednesday from Hermosa Beach, where they have been spending the summer.

Billy Vickers of the Gibbs meat market and Harry Peterson of the Sierra Madre Garage staff left on Sunday in Billy's roadster for a two weeks trip in the north. They expect to go as far north as Vancouver.

Sierra Madre was represented last week at the annual joint convention of the Covenanter Young People's Union and the Women's Presbyterian Missionary Society of the Reformed Presbyterian church, held at Pacific Palisades, famed educational, conference and resort center on the north shore of Santa Monica Bay, by Catherine and LeRoy McBurney, 646 West Central Avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Blackwell who has been spending a few days in Beverly Hills has returned to her home at 126 East Mira Monte.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farman returned from the north Tuesday, where they have been visiting friends in Portland, Pacific Grove and Hood River for about six weeks.

Mrs. Thomas P. Rigney and daughter, Miss Phyllis Rigney, of 113 West Carter Avenue have leased a cottage at Santa Monica where they expect to remain during September.

Mrs. Boyd Keith who was taken to the Pasadena Hospital Monday suffering with appendicitis, is reported doing very well. The attack which was entirely unexpected, as she had apparently been in splendid health on Sunday, was so acute that it was necessary to operate almost immediately. An intimate friend of Mrs. Keith's, Mrs. Wm. Rafter, a trained nurse, of Pasadena, is attending her.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parker of 192 North Baldwin and Mrs. Estelle Fennel and son, Lester, are enjoying a motor tour of the northwestern states.

His Version

Little Billy, aged three, was sitting with his father and mother in front of the grate one evening when his father remarked that the fire in the grate was dying down. Little Billy spoke up and said: "Yes, daddy, there is a little fire in the grate, but not much—the much went out."—Indianapolis News.

Confidence Wins

Unfavorable though your environment and your prospect may be, cling to your own honest estimate of yourself. Certain that your purpose in life is wholly approvable and desirable, confidently believe in your power to do, for he who thinks he can, always can do.—Grit.

Attaining Happiness

Some one has said that real happiness comes from within, not from without. Pretty good evidence of the truth of this statement is found in the fact that a third of incomes is spent for pleasure, yet men and women are not happy. There's chance for experiment.—Grit.

First to Make Good

The first successful typewriter in the world was patented on June 23, 1868, by three associates of Milwaukee, Wis. The inventors were C. Latham Sholes, printer and editor; Samuel W. Soule, a printer, and Carlos Glidden, a capitalist.

Tree Worship

The May day ceremonies that are still celebrated in many English villages are a relic of tree worship. The May queen represents the spirit of vegetation, as the leaf-clad numbers and the doctored maypole represent the worshipped tree.

Maybe She's Right

When a woman puts out a display of flowers, she has an air indicating that women invented flowers and that men do not care for them.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Fitzwilliam and Mrs. R. G. McLellan enjoyed a motor tour of the south beaches on Sunday, stopping at Newport Beach for an enjoyable picnic outing.

Mrs. R. R. Moreland and son, Calvin, are spending the week at Redondo Beach.

The Ashmore and Morgridge families are occupying the Ward cottage at Newport Beach. Messrs. Ashmore and Morgridge spent Sunday with them but are keeping the home fires burning during the week.

Albert M. Wheeling has been absent from his hardware store a few days, being confined to his home by a cold so severe that it threatened something much more serious.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Paden and two daughters, Hazel and Dorothy, left early Saturday morning for their former home in Erie, Pa. They are driving east, following the Lincoln highway.

Superfluous

"Among the most useless things on earth," said old Cyrus K. Sav-age, "are odes, well chosen words, minutes of the last meeting, pan-nips, cures for baldness, family trees, ringing resolutions and cards of thanks."—Kansas City Star.

Effect of Feed on Eggs

The chemical analysis of eggs is only very slightly affected by the ration of the hen. A very deficient ration will affect the analysis slightly, but moderate variations do not affect it. The vitamin content of eggs is affected materially by the character of the ration.

Report Of Arboretum Committee

The same persons have promised federal donations of grasses, trees, shrubs and seeds, herbarium specimens, literature, apparatus and similar property. They have also suggested in due time certain forest lands may be leased to your botanical society to enlarge the arboretum. The county forester of Los Angeles county, Mr. Spence D. Turner, who has made a careful survey of the canyon, has voluntarily offered to contribute valuable plants and services of his personnel. The resources of the Los Angeles park department have likewise been offered. Father Peter Hanley has offered some of the property of the Passionist Order to extend the area of the park. Thru Dr. Clements the cooperation of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce has been offered. Congressman Evans has pledged himself to secure whatever government aid may be necessary. The same pledge has been made by Senators Johnson and Shortridge.

Since your committee has begun its work the city authorities have improved the trails in the arboretum canyon. It is hoped further improvements may be made and that some of the poison oak and other noxious weeds may be removed in the near future. Access to the canyon is easier, safer and more comfortable. You are welcome, under escort by some member of your committee. Usually visiting parties are conducted through the canyon in the latter part of the afternoon on Tuesdays and Fridays. Those desiring to make the trip should notify Secretary-Treasurer Humphries.

Legal Plans
Incorporation of your society has been under discussion ever since your committee began to function. Superficially the process of incorporation appears simple; actually it presents problems that must be solved before the constitution and by-laws are finally formulated. Your society will function not only as the proprietor of a non-profit arboretum or botanical garden, but it will be sponsor for a scientific outdoor and indoor museum; it may provide facilities for the work of visiting students and research workers; it may publish the results of the work of its own staff, or persons connected with the institution; it may have reciprocal relations with schools, high schools, colleges and universities; it may derive support from the city, the county, the state, the federal government, semi-public institutions, private institutions and persons; it may own property, and it may act as trustee for funds and property. These other problems confront your executive committee and your legal committee. Several conferences have been held. In order that no hasty decisions may be made and that errors may be avoided the legal committee is scrutinizing the incorporation papers of similar institutions throughout the United States. After a thorough digest of such documents your legal committee will proceed to create a corporation which will be empowered to have members of various classifications, and to function in the various capacities indicated, as well as in others that have not been mentioned. It is anticipated that it will require some time to bring such a corporation into existence.

In the meantime, however, it would seem your society should have some legal form. Such form is desirable in order that it may accept gifts of considerable importance that have been offered which your committee does not feel at liberty to take under existing circumstances. It may also enable your society to transact business which at present would not appear proper. It has been suggested a trust might be formed having properly designated agents; or other methods may be devised to accomplish the same results. Your legal committee is investigating and will report its recommendations shortly.

Your legal committee is as follows: Robert Mitchell, chairman; Donald Barker, F. D. R. Moore, Fred Barker, Edward E. Bacon, Ray C. Eberhard; Clare V. Eberhard, J. M. Danziger, Franklin K. Lane, Jr., and Everett W. Mat-460n.

Publicity
The widespread publicity given to the arboretum is unquestionably due to the deep appeal of the project and the soundness of the plans and the manner in which they have been presented to the newspapers, periodicals, writers, lecturers and others. The publicity has appeared in all the dailies in Los Angeles repeatedly; it has also appeared in all periodicals of Los Angeles. The Pasadena papers, notably the Star-News and Sun, have given generous space to all arboretum news. Thruout Los Angeles county the local newspapers have been surprisingly free with their space and considerable mention has been made in many outside publications.

Particular stress should be laid upon the invaluable services rendered to the society by the Sierra Madre News. It has opened its columns to every announcement and has given complete report of every matter of news which should reach the notice of those interested in the arboretum. Its pages and the counsel and cooperation of its editors have been towers of strength to your executive committee. The broad and progressive spirit of this publication has incalculable value to the destiny of this community.

Special notice should also be given to the editorial in the columns of the Los Angeles Times; the editorials in the columns of the Los Angeles Examiner; and the mention by the Lancer, Harry Carr's daily contribution to the Los Angeles Times. It is well to note that the metropolitan newspapers are not free with their editorial comment on projects outside of the city. This is a distinction that has unusual significance and exceptional value. It inspires serious respect and consideration in substantial and influential quarters.

In the near future the main page of Farm and Orchard will be devoted to the arboretum, and John Steven McGroarty will mention the arboretum in his page in the magazine of the Sunday Los Angeles Times.

It has not been possible to get an accurate estimate of the quantity of publicity published to this date; your committee could not employ a clipping agency. But from the clippings in our scrapbook, representing only some of the metropolitan papers and the newspapers of neighboring cities, it is easy to compute that much more than 1100 inches of publicity has appeared in Southern California alone.

Direct personal offers of cooperation have been made by Harry Carr of the Los Angeles Times; K.C.B. of the Hearst Syndicate; John Steven McGroarty of the Times; Frank X. Pfaffinger, vice-president of the Times; Mrs. John Manning (Francis Duncan) of Orchard and Farm; Frank Barnham, publisher of the Los Angeles Evening Herald; E. A. Dickson, editor and proprietor of the Los Angeles Evening Express; Edward Collins, managing editor of the Evening Herald; Charles H. Prisk, owner of the Pasadena Star-News and other newspapers; F. B. Kellogg, owner of the Pasadena Post and another newspaper; and Joseph Timmons, feature writer of the Los Angeles Examiner, who is also a regular member of the Sierra Madre Botanical Society.

Over eleven hundred letters have been written to people of note, influence and substance thruout Southern California. These letters have all been personal and have made your arboretum known in circles with extraordinary influence on public thought.

To make the beauties and possibilities of your arboretum known in fact as well as by hearsay, your committee has at various times invited distinguished persons to visit Arboretum Canyon and members of the committee have later entertained the visitors informally at dinner or lunch. Among the visitors have been Dr. William Tyler Miller, Dr. Marcus E. Jones, Prince Erik of Denmark, Mrs. John H. Manning, Charles G. Adams, George F. Robinson, Frank Shearer, Forester Spence D. Turner, Baron and Baroness de Ropp, Benjamin S. Hahn, Harold J. Ryan, John A. Bell, D. W. Coolidge and others. Other visitors will be the guests of your committee frequently during the coming months.

Pioneer Celebration
On July 10th, your committee organized a celebration to formally launch the arboretum, at which the Pioneers of Southern California were guests. A distinguished gathering of old-timers came from all parts of Southern California. The chambers of commerce of many Southern California cities sent delegations and some sent contributions to the program. Over 150 cities were invited to participate. Your committee called on Governor C. C. Young and received from him a qualified promise to attend. It also called upon Burton R. Fitts. It issued an invitation to Congressman W. E. Evans. Lieut.-Gov. Fitts brought the personal regrets of Governor Young. Congressman Evans was present and spoke. There were approximately 1500 persons in the audience despite the extraordinary heat. Most of these were out-of-town visitors. Many were distinguished. The event was successful from every angle and was valuable to the community as well as to the arboretum.

Fire Prevention Clean-up
It was originally planned to hold the arboretum celebration in Bailey Canyon. The board of city trustees gave formal permission. But an investigation by your secretary-treasurer and Father Peter and the city fire marshal revealed that the grass and brush in the lower part of the canyon were so dry and so heavy that the danger from fire was very grave and threatened the existence of the canyon and the water shed beyond, with consequent dangers of various kinds to the city itself. Your committee therefore voluntarily abandoned the plan to celebrate in Bailey Canyon, and immediately after the celebration called an informal conference at lunch in Sierra Madre Canyon which was attended by representatives of the board of trustees, city officials, county, state and federal forestry officials and representatives of your committee to the board of city trustees, supported by communications from the county and state foresters and the federal ranger. The board appointed a committee to cooperate with your society, ordered the city attorney to draft a stringent ordinance, and appropriated $100 to clean up parts of the city. The authorities admitted the measures taken were inadequate but pointed out their resources would not enable them to do more protective work. Your representatives thereupon called another conference which was attended by ranking officers of the county, state, and federal forest fire fighting organizations as well as local authorities. A complete inspection of the whole city was made by the whole conference. Danger spots were marked with red markers. The places most urgently needing cleaning up were marked on maps. August first was designated as clean-up week and under the direction of the state, county and federal officials a volunteer clean-up organization was brought into existence, including a woman's auxiliary. The primary object of this drive was to clean up the most perilous spots in Sierra Madre Canyon, to protect Bailey Canyon, to run a general fire break separating the hill section of the city from the watershed. The secondary purpose was to secure a general clean up thruout the city of lots with dry weeds, of backyards with dangerous collections of debris, to secure installation of incinerators of safe types and to arouse the public generally to a sense of personal responsibility in guarding the community against menace from fires. Your committee feels it is justified in sponsoring this undertaking on account of its declared purpose to preserve the natural resources of Sierra Madre.

The campaign, owing to the energy of your representatives, the cooperation of the authorities, the prompt response of the citizens, was a complete success. Over 100 persons worked voluntarily and others hired substitutes. Business houses contributed tools and trucks. Citizens furnished money and food. Women gave freely of their time in serving the workers. The business community declared a half holiday. The clean-up has aroused public sentiment and solidified intelligently in a demand for adequate protection. Your committee contemplates further steps to secure permanent protective measures for Bailey Canyon and the natural resources of Sierra Madre.

Public Concert
Your committee cooperated with the chamber of commerce in holding a concert at the city park and secured the appearance of distinguished officials of the county, state and federal forest and fire departments who spoke upon fire hazards as part of the fire prevention clean-up campaign.

Your committee believes that the members of this organization should support the city planning commission in any effort it may take to secure better planting in the city park, more adequate lighting, more benches and tables, and better facilities for the holding of entertainments in the evening as well as during the day. It believes the club house in the park should be available to the public after five o'clock at night on occasion of public events, and if any ordinance prevents such use, the ordinance should be repealed and proper provisions made so the public may have use of the premises. It believes every proper facility should be given to the public to use this park for such gatherings and rallies as have occurred during the past sixty days.

Co-operation
Your committee wishes to acknowledge the help of many men and women whose names should be mentioned but will be reserved for the next report. Those not living in Sierra Madre who have volunteered to aid on committees and in other ways, not previously mentioned include Judge Benj. F. Bledsoe, Most Rev. John J. Cantwell, J. B. Coulson, Mayor George E. Cryer, Myron Hunt, Dr. V. Le R. Duke, E. E. Ellsworth, D. H. Fry, Edw. C. Harwood, Dr. Marcus Jones, Leo B. Lesperance, Dr. Wm. T. Miller, Orna E. Monnette, J. M. Paige, Jay E. Randall, Dr. Arch. D. Shamel, E. F. Underhill, James Wood, H. S. Bissel, Major Robert Cotton, Miss Lulu C. Carson, Bert L. Clogston, G. Aubrey Davidson, Melville Dozier, Thos. F. Ford, Helen Lukens Gaut, Dr. Os-good Hardy, A. M. King, Walter F. Lineberger, L. E. Moselle, Dr. E. C. Moore, Charles H. Prisk, Leslie R. Saunders, F. W. Taylor, Fred E. Wadsworth.

Finances
Your committee began business with $48 cash and $800 pledged. The total of all funds collected to date amounts to $1257.00. The total of all pledges to date amounts to $2470. Of the original $800 pledged, $300 remains unpaid. The total of pledges unpaid amounts to $1213. Your committee estimates that sixty per cent of these unpaid pledges are valid. A considerable portion of the balance will undoubtedly be paid, in time, but the uncertainty concerning their receipt does not make them liquid assets. They cannot be regarded as dependable or available resources for the current operation of the organization. Your tangible assets created thru the voluntary professional services of experts in the many branches of endeavor represents considerable value. These together with the moral commitments by the board of city trustees and by technical experts constitute assets worth many thousands of dollars. While these assets could not be liquidated they would represent a very considerable expense if it were necessary to do the work again on a cash basis.

The expenditures to date total $1257. Out of this amount Mr. Kruckman has received $586.75 for his services as organizer; out-of-town publicity, $175; clerical work, Sierra Madre and Los Angeles, Angeles, $305; multigraphing, $47; stamps, $25.50; lunches and entertainment, $7; Sierra Madre News (job printing), $41.26; petty cash, $5.50, making the total as shown above.

Your committee feels that the work has advanced to such a stage that Mr. Kruckman's services have been dispensed with and they hereby wish to thank Mr. Kruckman for his wise counsel and active influence.

Your committee believes that it will require at least $2000 more, in addition to all funds collected and pledged, to carry the preliminary work to a successful conclusion. It proposes principally to secure these funds from the residents and property owners of Sierra Madre, and it hopes these funds may be secured in such moderate sums as may distribute the participation widely thruout the community. To secure them an organization has been created to collect in the six voting districts of the city. This organization has already been active. Each individual member should aid the work of this district organization by suggestions and by active help. An hour's help, a half day's help, a day's help or as much help as you will give has value. The services of an automobile is useful. Those members who can increase their subscriptions should do so. Those who can bear more than the nominal fee should make an additional contribution as soon as convenient. Constant in-flow of funds is obviously essential in order that there may be no diminua-

Christian Science

Corner Highland and Hermosa

Christian Science Society of Sierra Madre is a branch of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.
9:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
8 p. m.—Wednesday testimony meeting.
Reading room open Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 2 to 4.

Considerable money has been offered by persons of wealth interested in our project. Such men as John G. Bullock of Bullock's in Los Angeles; George W. Marston, the notable philanthropist of San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Harwood, the famous benefactors of Pomona College; Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Hahn of Pasadena, Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, and at least thirty have voluntarily offered to contribute liberally. But your committee does not believe it is proper to accept money from them until the society is in proper form, and until the experts have formulated their plans in such definite form that a crystallized budget estimate of cost may be approved and sponsored by your society. Your committee does not believe that the contributions of these people should be used to defray preliminary expenses, but should be applied to the permanent installation and operation of the arboretum and the society. Your committee holds that the preliminary expenses should properly be borne by the residents and property owners of Sierra Madre, since apparently this will be their main contribution to the project.

The final plans for financing installation and maintenance of the arboretum will in due time be submitted to a special committee competent to counsel and judge, and upon their final revision the plans will be submitted to your organization.

Summary

Your arboretum is a concrete, going concern with some of the best professional talent of the country working upon it. Your board of city trustees by means of the interest in the arboretum have been awakened to the fact (Continued on Page Eight)

THE FEATHERHEADS

You Can't Go to Sleep With That

FREEDOM OF GROWTH

Take stock regularly of your child's health. Know if he has "freedom of growth". No child will make proper gains if his "health brakes" are on.

"He is lean and lanky like his father," or "he always was stunted" are not reasons for growth failure. Unwholesome health habits, physical defects or illness are the usual "health brakes."

The whole family watches the baby grow. But the "runabout" youngster too often grows "like Topsy." Regular health stock taking is often abandoned. Continue to check up on the child's health as he gets older. Give him regular physical examinations, do not wait until he fails to grow or is ill before consulting a clinic or family physician.

Diseased tonsils, adenoids and teeth may pour bacteria and toxins into the body faster than rest, fresh air and food can fight them. Nasal obstructions permit less air in the body. Lack of air is lack of needful oxygen. Poor "breathers" usually mean poor sleepers, and a poor sleeper is not a well nourished child. Food cannot be adequately handled by a restless child.

"Poking" at food may indicate sore, carious teeth or enlarged tonsils. Slowing down on eating means lessening of his food quota. "Bolting" food may be the easiest way to pass it through bad teeth or throat.

Adequate gains in height and weight over given periods of time is not the only requisite in checking on a child's growth; but only a check along with adequate periodic physical examinations to determine if he is "free to grow"—Christmas Seal Service.

Learn Health Rules Early As Life Help

Health rules learned during childhood remain through life. A properly nourished child grows into a healthful adult with full physical faculties for usefulness. Mental capacity and proper functioning depend largely on physical well-being.

To free the race from disease, attention must be directed in the building up of resistance during childhood. It is towards this aim that the Los Angeles County health department has established fourteen summer health schools in the county, states Dr. J. L. Romero, county health officer.

In these schools are 400 school children, representing all social classes, who, in a recent survey, were screened out as being physically below par. Through a seven and one-half weeks' program of proper nutrition and training in personal hygiene, they are being put back on the road to health. It is a demonstration on which the eyes of public health experts of the entire country are focused; a demonstration made possible through the Christmas Seal sale of the Los Angeles County Public Health Association. The armory of a sound body in childhood is the basic principle in the national fight against tuberculosis.

It is toward building up the resistance against disease of the children of Los Angeles County that the health department and the Public Health Association are focusing their attention.

To achieve lasting results, Dr. Elizabeth Saphro, head of the county child hygiene division, urges the cooperation of mothers in the home. The following table of food and food values is given as a guide for a well balanced diet, which Dr. E. V. McCollum, noted food expert, emphasized as absolutely necessary for the health and growth of the child.

Breakfast—Milk, cereal with cream and sugar (or eggs and bacon), toast and butter, fruit.

Lunch—Hot dish, milk, vegetables, bread, dessert.

Dinner—Milk, meat or substitute, one starchy vegetable, two fresh vegetables, one leafy; bread and butter, dessert. Milk may be used in any form of a hot dish or dessert.

Rule for Food Combinations
Any food that will not poison you of itself may be combined with any other food that is not a poison.

Classification of Foods
Proteins, Definition: A group of compounds widely distributed in nature forming the main constituents of the tissues.

Use in the body: Proteins are used to build tissues.

Amount necessary in a well balanced diet: 10 per cent of the total calorie value for an adult and 15 per cent-20 per cent of total calorie value for the child.

Main sources of protein: Muscle meats, glandular organs, eggs, cheese, legume seeds, such as peas, beans and lima beans.

Carbohydrates—Definition: A chemical term applied to foods composed of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen and including principally sugars and starches.

Use in the body: Carbohydrates are the chief source of energy.

Amount necessary for a well balanced diet 50 per cent of the total calorie value should be carbohydrate.

Main sources: Sugar, starches, bread, potatoes, macaroni, rice, vegetables, fruits, cake, candy, etc.

Fats—Definition: Fats are derived from animal and vegetable sources. They have the same chemical constituents as carbohydrates only in different combination. Use in the body: Concentrated sources of energy. That which is not burned for energy is used for body fat building. The amount necessary for a well balanced diet: 35 per cent-40 per cent of the total calorie value should be fat.

Main sources: Butter, cream, oil, lard, fat cuts of meat, and nuts.

Mineral Salts—Definition: Some of the most important salts are: Calcium, phosphorus, potassium and sodium, iron and iodine. Use in the body: They are used to build bones. They are constituents of the thyroid gland and of the blood.

Amount necessary in a well balanced diet: Sufficient will be taken if two fresh vegetables are eaten every day and one pint of milk, and fruits.

Main sources: Milk, eggs, leafy vegetables, whole wheat, fruits, liver and fish.

Vitamins—Definition: A life-giving property found in foods which promotes growth and prevents disease.

Amount necessary: Sufficient will be supplied if the diet contains one pint of milk, two fresh vegetables and fresh fruit every day. Main sources: Milk, fresh vegetables, fresh fruit, eggs, liver, cod-liver oil, yeast, nuts.

Roughage—Definition: The portion of food which is not digested and passes through stools unchanged. Use in the body: To prevent constipation. Amount necessary: Two fresh vegetables, the daily, and fresh fruit, whole wheat and cereals.

Water—Use in the body: Building tissues and tissue fluids which bathe them. Furnish liquid for the blood which carries oxygen to the tissues. Prevent constipation. Amount necessary—1 quart.

Calorie: Is an arbitrary heat unit or unit of energy. It is a measure of the amount of heat given off when a food is burned.

Calorie Requirement: Adult, average weight, 20-25 calories for every pound of body weight. Child, 35-40 calories for every pound of body weight.

Division of the day: Approximately in thirds. The lunch should be one-third of the requirement. Breakfast less and dinner more.

R. G. Lacey, an orchardist living near Hanford, has invited the public to help themselves to his grapes, the present prices being so low he says he cannot afford to pick them.

Getting feed for his turkeys from the air is the stunt used by one Livingston, Merced county, turkey raiser. L. L. Love, director of the county farm bureau, has placed a large pole in his yard, surmounted it with a powerful electric light, below which he has placed a large metal funnel to which is attached a large sack. During the night large numbers of bugs are attracted by the light, to become blinded, falling into the funnel and becoming trapped in the sack.

An acre of land in California devoted to proper vegetation and otherwise suitably prepared is capable of yielding approximately 175 pounds of silk, according to an investigation said to have been carried on over a period of years.

There are 11,000 lawyers registered in California. A law passed by the last legislature makes it necessary for all members of the state bar to register.

California farm laborers are consistently drawing wages approximating 50 per cent greater than the average salaries paid farm hands throughout the United States. This is shown in a summary of farm pay compiled by the federal state crop statistician.

Last year farmers of this state paid their help an average of $2.05 with board and $3.65 without, as compared with a national average of $1.91 with board and $2.45 without.

Sleeping quarters are in Washoe county, Nevada.

COMING TO PASADENA C. F. Redlich RUPTURE

Appliance Expert for Men, Women and Children

Will Give Free Consultation on FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, AUGUST 26 and 27

at PASADENA HOTEL from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. TWO DAYS ONLY that regardless of the position and movements of your body or the weight you may lift, his appliances, when skillfully applied by himself or his highly trained experts will hold your Rupture perfectly and give you instant relief and permanent comfort.

Their use will soon contract the opening, strengthen the weakened tissues (the real cause of rupture) and will often, especially in recent and not yet neglected cases, effect a complete recovery.

You can wear them while bathing and swimming; there are no elastic belts, no unsanitary, chafing legstraps.

Stomach trouble, back ache and constipation, so often caused by rupture are promptly and permanently relieved.

Remarkable results are obtained in many old and neglected cases and these should by no means miss this opportunity.

Ladies

For stomach and naval ruptures or drooping of the abdomen, I have comfortable, cool and sanitary appliances, and an expert surgical corsetiere will design them individually and make them to fit perfectly. Call, consult the expert and have your measure taken, if you desire comfort and results.

Do not waste good money on worthless mail-order contraptions and fake medicines; they make you worse. You cannot fit yourself.

Children, 95%

of the ruptures of babies and children can be cured by skillful mechanical treatment.

I make no charge for consultation or re-adjustments necessary as your condition improves. Regular return visits will be made.

Report of the Arboretum Committee

that your city owns valuable water rights and actually possesses water which had been going to waste. Since their inspection of the canyon the board of city trustees has caused the water to be caught at the falls, has caused the water to be carried into the city supply. The board of city trustees since being aroused to the potentialities in Bailey canyon are investigating the water situation in the canyon. These proceedings of primary importance to Sierra Madre will in no way interfere with the development of your arboretum. In the beginning of its work your committee laid it down as a fundamental principle that municipal domestic use was the primary duty of any water supply existing in Bailey Canyon. Your committee through professional sources and data made available for its investigation, found that there is abundant water in the canyon to support the arboretum without interfering with the domestic supply of the municipality.

Your activities have, in fact, affected beneficially all civic, social, cultural and business life of the community. This season marks the business ebb of the year, and it is believed that right now we are at the lowest ebb of the business depression which has been prevalent in Southern California for the past three or four years. Yet this community, since your activities began, has enjoyed more than normal seasonal business activity. Real estate prices not only hold firm but have stiffened. There has been comparatively brisk demand for property for cash, as against trading which is practically the sole activity elsewhere. There is every indication that prices will rise and sales will increase here as fall approaches. Referrals have been brisk in view of prevailing conditions and rental rates have stiffened. Moreover, instead of the usual clientele of urgent and temporary health seekers the newcomers in many cases are persons who seek permanent homes and permanent investments. There has been a sound influx of people who plan to build substantial homes. There has been an extraordinary addition of a class of people who settle in a prosperous community. Business has been better among the merchants and a great number of visitors of substance and influence have streamed through Sierra Madre since your society began to function a few months ago.

You may pride yourself upon the fact that you have got in motion an impulse that will give a sane, wholesome momentum to all the affairs of your community. It is giving more animation to community pride; it is drawing the cliques and groups together in a set of common purposes that will create eventually a highly effective community spirit. The unanimity with which all groups and all interests worked to clean up the city to reduce the fire hazard is a fine illustration of the principle in action. Your celebration in honor of the pioneers brought people together who had not worked for a common purpose for years.

The publicity your arboretum has focused upon Sierra Madre has been unique. It has made the community stand out among the towns of Southern California. For days, weeks and months this publicity has consistently and persistently played upon Sierra Madre. It has created talk. It has provoked thought. As your work goes on it will create an asset of incalculable value for the community.

You have justified every expectation you aroused for your movement. You are increasing your material values without boom methods. You are making your community even pleasanter to live in. You are attracting desirable neighbors. And you are creating a scientific institution, with a popular appeal, uniquely symbolic of your community, which will grow in cultural value as time rolls on.

Dr. Lyon To Preach Last Sermon Here

Closes Four-Year Pastorate Here Amid General Regret

Next Sunday will mark the closing of the pastorate of Rev. Elwood P. Lyon, LL.D., at Bethany Church. Dr. Lyon presented his resignation to the church several months ago to take effect not later than September 1. He plans to resume evangelistic work in which he and his wife have spent a number of years.

During the four-year pastorate of Dr. Lyon Bethany Church has carried on active work in a variety of fields outside the parish itself. Dr. and Mrs. Lyon have devoted a great amount of time and effort to work among the sick and have endeared themselves to a great many people.

In returning to evangelistic work Dr. Lyon is returning to a field in which he has had much experience. After holding some early pastorates in Massachusetts he went to the state of Washington where he engaged in evangelistic home missionary work for the interdenominational association. He then spent ten years in pastoral work, the last three being with a large church in Spokane. Coming to Southern California he spent three years as head of the Biola Club in Pasadena, an institution conducted by the Bible Institute of Los Angeles.

The following resolutions of appreciation were adopted at a recent meeting of the church:

Whereas, Dr. E. P. Lyon has tendered his resignation as pastor of Bethany Church, to take effect not later than September 1, 1927, and

Whereas, Dr. and Mrs. Lyon have faithfully and earnestly labored among this congregation, and have devotedly ministered to the sick of Sierra Madre, and

Whereas, Dr. and Mrs. Lyon have given a great portion of time to the teaching of the fundamentals of the Scriptures; be it therefore

Resolved, that Bethany Church hereby accepts with deep regret the resignation of Dr. Lyon as pastor; and be it further

Resolved, that we hereby express our appreciation of the whole-hearted and self-sacrificing service of our pastor and his wife during his ministry in Sierra Madre.

Fire Hazards!

The recent fire prevention week has been the means of stimulating action and thought along the lines of "looking out" for our interests.

The fire in Floral Canyon was put out in short order, thanks to our boys who are always alert and ready to do things. It behooves all of us to be extremely careful as regards fire hazards. The fires now raging over the Ridge Route are expensive in many ways and trees, shrubs, etc., destroyed cannot be replaced for many years. A fire on the slopes of the mountains back of us would result in floods, mud, cinders, expense. Let's watch our step—let's use the A.B.C. of safety—and save our watershed, mountains, money, patience and time.

The past week has been quiet. We are getting ready for a good fall trade.

The Building and Loan Association of California have done much to build homes in the state. The money loaned for the purpose of building homes comes to the vaults of these institutions in small amounts—the savings of many—in the same way the money is loaned to small home builders who pay off these loans in payments like rent; an easy way and a way that makes it possible to "own your own home."

We are proud to represent the Los Angeles Mutual Building & Loan Association. "No trouble to answer questions."

Just as a reminder, we cater to newcomers; we look after property; we buy, sell and exchange real estate; make building loans; handle Union Pacific business; furnish travel information—train, ship, auto—believe in Sierra Madre—do all we can to help Sierra Madre and sell insurance that insures.

Rare Fruits Are Wanted At The Fair

Special Appeal Is Made to Sierra Madre Growers for Specimens

Who has some fine specimens of Sierra Madre fruits to be shown at the Los Angeles County Fair? A special appeal has been made for examples of less common varieties such as sapotes, feijoas, strawberry and lemon guavas, and others of this class. The following request from County Horticultural Commissioner Ryan was received by President Humphries of the chamber of commerce, who will be glad to hear from anyone who can furnish fruit as requested.

Dear Mr. Humphries:

At the Los Angeles County Fair last year we had over 460 plates of fruits and vegetable exhibits. It was our first fair to have the plate exhibit, and we learned that while there was little difficulty in getting some very fine specimens of the more common types of deciduous fruits and grape varieties, that we had fallen far short of getting an adequate display of sub-tropical fruits that grow so well in our foothill sections, but are comparatively unknown to a great many people who visit the fair.

They are particularly anxious this year to have a large number of entries of fruit such as sapotes, feijoas, strawberry and lemon guavas, and others of this class. Sierra Madre, I know, has quite a number of fruiting sub-tropicals. These displays are exhibited at the fair in individual plates, graded according to variety, each plate carrying the name of the variety, the name of the grower and location. I should like to see, and I believe it would be a good thing for Sierra Madre to have several entries if possible of fruits of this type for this year's fair, which runs from September 20 to 24.

I am enclosing with this a copy of the premium list which you will note offers prizes for any recognized standard varieties in addition to those listed. Perishable fruits which may be available at the present writing, will be cheerfully taken care of without charge if they are sent directly to the Pomona Ice and Cold Storage Co., care of County Fair Plate Display. Materials which can be held until a few days before the fair will be picked up by truck or auto, preferably at some central point in Sierra Madre. It would help us greatly if we could arrange with you to have people bring such displays on a date to be agreed upon, to your office or some other central point where we could pick them up. I am asking Mr. Geo. Hussey, horticultural inspector for this office, to call upon you at an early date and make all necessary arrangements for handling any material available from Sierra Madre.

Very truly yours,

Harold J. Ryan.

Following is the list, with $1 as first prize, and 50c as second: Opuntia vulgaris, prickly pear; cyphomandra betae, tree potato; alberta ciffra, kai apple; pawpaws; kumquats; tangelo; olives; tangerines; St. Michael; cherries; red raspberries; currants, 1 pint; gooseberries, 1 pint; nuts—Almonds, 24 nuts; walnuts, 24; pecans, 24; peanuts, 24; small vegetables—potatoes, 5 each; sweet potatoes, 5; cucumbers, 5; eggplant, 3; onions, 5; tomatoes, 5; green peppers, 5; dried peppers, 12.
